

INFORMATIONAL MEMORANDUM
OIR-04-010M
ISSUED
SEPTEMBER 15, 2004
Florida Office of Insurance Regulation
Kevin McCarty, Commissioner

To All Property and Casualty Insurers in the State of Florida

Continued Hurricane Reporting

Many areas of Florida have recently been adversely affected by Hurricane Charley and Hurricane Frances. All property and casualty insurers transacting business in Florida are required to submit to the Florida Office of Insurance Regulation ("Office") information for any property claims that result from Hurricanes Charley and Frances. Pursuant to Informational Memorandum OIR-04-008M, companies have been submitting certain required information for Hurricane Charley. Companies shall continue to update this information and are now required to submit separately information for Hurricane Frances. The required information is listed below:

Claims Information for areas in which claims have occurred

Number of Claims Reported to Date, by County;
Number of Claims Determined to be a Total Loss, by County;
Total Claim Payments to Date, by County;
Estimated Case Reserves, by County.

Financial Projections

Best Estimate of Expected Gross Loss;
Projected Net Retention;
Identification of the Model used in calculating the above;
*Estimated Total of Deductibles for All Claims Reported to Date.

General Information

Location, contact information and hours of operation for any mobile response units that are currently assisting with Hurricane Frances;
Number of adjusters assigned to areas adversely impacted by Frances.
*Contact Information for the individual submitting the information.

*Items not previously requested.

The information shall be submitted via the Office website at <https://apps.fldfs.com/disasterreporting>. Each insurer shall continue to provide this information to the Office not later than 5:00 pm every Wednesday, until it receives notice from the Office that it is no longer required to do so. Each submission shall contain the cumulative results experienced by the insurer from Hurricane Charley and Hurricane Frances and not information for only the previous week. Information for Hurricane Charley and Hurricane Frances should not be combined and must be reported separately. If there are no changes from the prior submission, then indicate so for the specific items. Please have the Florida Company Code for your company/companies when accessing the system.
